City Democratic Committee Meet Friday Night at 7

To Count Absentee City Primary Votes Here Friday Night

Approximately 50 Ballots Mailed to Voters in Tuesday's Primary

TO DECIDE ONE RACE

Expected That the Police Judges Race Will Be Decided by This Vote

Approximately fifty absentee ballots, mailed to voters in Hope's second primary election held last Tuesday, March 3, are now in the hands of the circuit clerk at Washington and are to be counted Friday night at 7 o'clock. Much interest in the result of the absentee vote count is shown by the people of the city as the nomination to one office, that of police judge, is expected to be decided by this vote. Tuesday candidates for this office, a newly created one for Hope, each received the same number of votes. Both Mr. Hunsley and Mr. Gentry received 421 votes.

None of the other races are expected to be materially changed by the count of these votes.

General Election
According to election officials the general city election will take place on the first Tuesday in April and will be followed two weeks later by the installation of the newly elected city officials.

Robinson Defends Young Rum Runner

Youth Caught With Cargo of Whisky Sentenced to Ninety Days

GREENVILLE, Tenn.—(AP)—How Senator Joseph T. Robinson's defense plea won leniency for Don K. Rawlings, Jr., son of a friend, who confessed to liquor transportation came to light here Friday.

Robinson unexpectedly appeared in Federal court Wednesday to defend the youth, son of a Corbin, Kentucky judge.

The youth received a ninety day sentence and thirty minutes later Robinson was on his way to Washington.

Prohibition officers at Knoxville said the youth was arrested for transporting 72 gallons of whiskey.

Arkansas Exceeds Its C.M.T.C. Quota

1,855 Applications Received for Admittance to Camp Pike School

LITTLE ROCK—Interest of Arkansas boys in the annual Citizens Training Camps held by the government during the summer apparently has increased considerably since the decision of the federal authorities to hold the first such encampment at Camp Pike next July. The recruiting campaign for boys at the camp has just been opened, and already the state has exceeded its quota by 185.5 per cent. A total of 1,855 boys have filed applications to be admitted to a camp this year, and 793 boys had filed applications at the same date last year.

The quota assigned Arkansas is 1,000. Arkansas' closest competitor, Missouri has a quota of 1,860, the largest in the area, which comprises eight states, but has received thus far only 492 applications. Minnesota follows with 219 applications, and a quota of 1,303. However, Arkansas has been assigned an additional quota of 200 for the state at large.

Once Rough Rangers Become 'City Broke'

HOUSTON, Texas.—(AP)—The Texas rangers are becoming "city broke." Their new commander-in-chief, Adj. Gen. W. W. Sterling, erstwhile captain of the St. Louis company which patrols the lonely Mexican border country, is a college graduate who wears full dress with ease.

His new chaplain, the Rev. P. B. Hill, has the rank of captain. One of his first official acts was to compose a prayer in poetry for the force.

Bulletins

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—President Hoover has accepted the resignation of Alexander Legge, chairman of the Farm Board and will make a formal announcement late Friday it was said. It is not known whether his successor will be announced at that time or not.

Local Musician in Piano Recital

Carroll Hinsley, Faculty Member, Playing at Arkadelphia

Carroll Hinsley, member of the local High School faculty, will be presented in a piano recital at Ouachita College, Arkadelphia, Friday, evening March 6. Mr. Hinsley's recital is one of a series of recitals being given by pianists prominent in musical circles of Arkansas for the inspiration of the students in the School of Music. Mr. Hinsley will play a program consisting of representative works by Beethoven, Chopin, Debussy, MacDowell and composers of the modern school.

Mr. Hinsley is a graduate of the School of Music at Ouachita and has studied under prominent pianists, including Moschinsky, Boguslawski and Rudolph Weiser of Chicago, whose comments upon his playing were very complimentary. He has given recitals in numerous towns in Arkansas where his playing attracted much attention. In addition, he was judged the best pianist studying in any Arkansas college in 1929 in a contest sponsored by the National Federation of Music Clubs.

A. & M. Enters 50 Hogs at Stock Show

Will Enter Both Car Lot and Individual Contests

MAGNOLIA—A car of 50 hogs was recently shipped to Fort Worth, Tex., by Vess W. Godley, instructor of Animal Husbandry of Magnolia A. & M. College, to be entered in the South Western Exposition and Stock Show. At the date of shipping, March 3, the hogs averaged 270 pounds. They were started on the fattening range January 1, at an average weight of 145 pounds. Sixty days fattening resulted in an average gain of 125 pounds. This project is one conducted by Vess Godley with his students of the high school class in live stock production. Aside from the entry in the car lot contest, entries will also be made in the contest for individuals and pens.

Woman Bitten By Monkey at England

Animal to Be Sent to State Health Department for Observation

ENGLAND—Mrs. Heber McLaughlin of Toltex was bitten by a pet monkey in Sam Watson Jr.'s store here Thursday, and Mrs. McLaughlin demanded that the monkey be killed and sent to the state health officer to be examined for rabies. Mr. Watson has just been notified that the monkey will be killed, but the monkey will be sent to the Health Department for observation.

The monkey was called Jocko and weighs 11 pounds. Although Mayor W. O. Williams has ordered the monkey to be delivered to the state health officers for observation, he said several have been bitten by the animal with no bad results.

Mr. Watson agreed to pay for the Pasteur treatment for Mrs. McLaughlin if she will take the treatment as a safeguard against possible infection.

Spring Signs Disagree

MARION, Va.—(AP)—In Southwest Virginia the groundhog and wild geese have agreed to disagree concerning the near advent of spring. Companions of geese already have been seen flying northward, and this always has been regarded as a sign that spring is near. On the other hand, the groundhog undeniably saw his shadow.

To Go to Trial as Widow's Assailant

A high school student and Sunday school teacher, 17-year-old Russell Noble, above, is facing trial at Haworth, Mass., on a charge of having attacked Mrs. Clara E. C. Ellis. Wealthy widow, with a hammer, the assault is alleged to have occurred when Noble, who needed $16 to tide him over financial difficulties, was discovered in the act of stealing a watch from a bureau in Mrs. Ellis' home.

Retail Merchants Association Meet

Officers of Organization Are Elected for the Ensuing Year

A meeting of the Hope Retail Merchants Association was held at 7:30 Thursday night at the city hall, at which time officers for the ensuing year were elected. Those elected were: George Robinson, president; J. M. Harbin, vice-president; Ched Hall, treasurer.

The following board of directors were also named at the meeting Thursday night: George W. Robinson, Bob Gosnell, John P. Cox, Lon Sanders, Ernest Wingfield, Theo P. Witt, C. W. Weltman, Paul Lewis and R. M. Patterson.

At the close of the general meeting the board of directors assembled and elected J. C. Carlton as secretary of the association.

Farmers Find Death Recipe for Woodchucks

BURLEY, Ida.—(AP)—Little Cove farmers have recipe—a recipe of death which they feel every tiller of the soil should know.

One of the agrarians wrote to authorities and told how, with one fell swoop, a city of woodchucks was exterminated.

The recipe: Wait until the end of the season when greens are scarce and woodchucks are hungry.

Send somewhere for a quantity of luscious green alfalfa.

Thoroughly poison with arsenic. Strew throughout the woodchuck colony.

Go your way, return the next day and try to find a live churck—just try!

The Little Cove farmers tried but couldn't. But they did find 1,000 dead ones.

Single Acre of Potatoes Yields Profit of $360

WOODVILLE, S. C.—(AP)—Last spring a farm woman living near here faced the prospect of going hungry, and seeing her children hungry.

One acre of garden land was found that could be used for planting any crop she chose. The woman, according to county farm leaders, had no money to buy fertilizers.

Quartet Arrested After Terrorizing Florida Citizens

Located in Swamps By Sheriff and More Than 200 Possemen

2 MEN AND 2 WOMEN

Outlaw Trail Leads For Over 400 Miles Across the State

MILTON, Florida.—(AP)—Four bandits who terrorized Western Florida Thursday and Thursday night were captured in a swamp near Mulat, in the southern part of this county before noon Friday.

The quartet, two men and two women, were brought to jail here by the sheriff and a posse of two hundred men.

They gave their names as Rex Hayes, Bert Oglesby, Mabel Weriz and Faye Harris. When captured they were armed with three revolvers.

All appear to be under 30 years of age.

A trail of shooting, automobile thefts and kidnapping started at Jacksonville, 400 miles away, where they shot and wounded one officer and clubbed another who attempted to stop their escape after a robbery.

They stole other automobiles in their flight and at Wellborn, a small town kidnapped a garage man and his small son, later releasing them.

Later at Chipley they shot a deputy sheriff who attempted to block their passage through the town.

Aged Woman Dies Near Texarkana

Was First Resident Born in Bowie County Texas Town

TEXARKANA.—(AP)—The oldest woman resident born in Bowie county (Texas) is dead. She was Mrs. E. O. Lenox, 84 years old.

She was born two miles north of New Boston on November 19, 1846, in a log cabin. Her father was the county's first tax collector. Mrs. Lenox was the first member of the Order of Eastern Star in Bowie county.

Sandwiches, cakes and coffee were served at the close of the meet, as a surprise provided by some of the members of the post.

John Vesey, Lee Ellis and George Deering are to address the Spring Hill school, at their assembly, Friday afternoon, on interesting side-lights of their war-time experiences.

Farmer, Aged 80, Commits Suicide

Despondent Man Ends Life at Home of His Son in Woodruff Co.

BRADFORD—Tom Hale, 81-year-old farmer, formerly of Grand Glaize, shot himself Thursday afternoon at the home of his son, John Hale, at Fitzhugh, Woodruff county, and died Thursday night at a hospital in New York.

No investigation has been made of the shooting but it is believed that he committed suicide.

Mr. Hale has been in ill health several months and was known to be despondent.

Mr. Hale has been in ill health several months and was known to be despondent.

Recently Gerold appeared before the Erie County Commissioners and explained his plight. The line, he said, was difficult to find because no survey had been made of it since the county was separated from Huron county nearly a century ago.

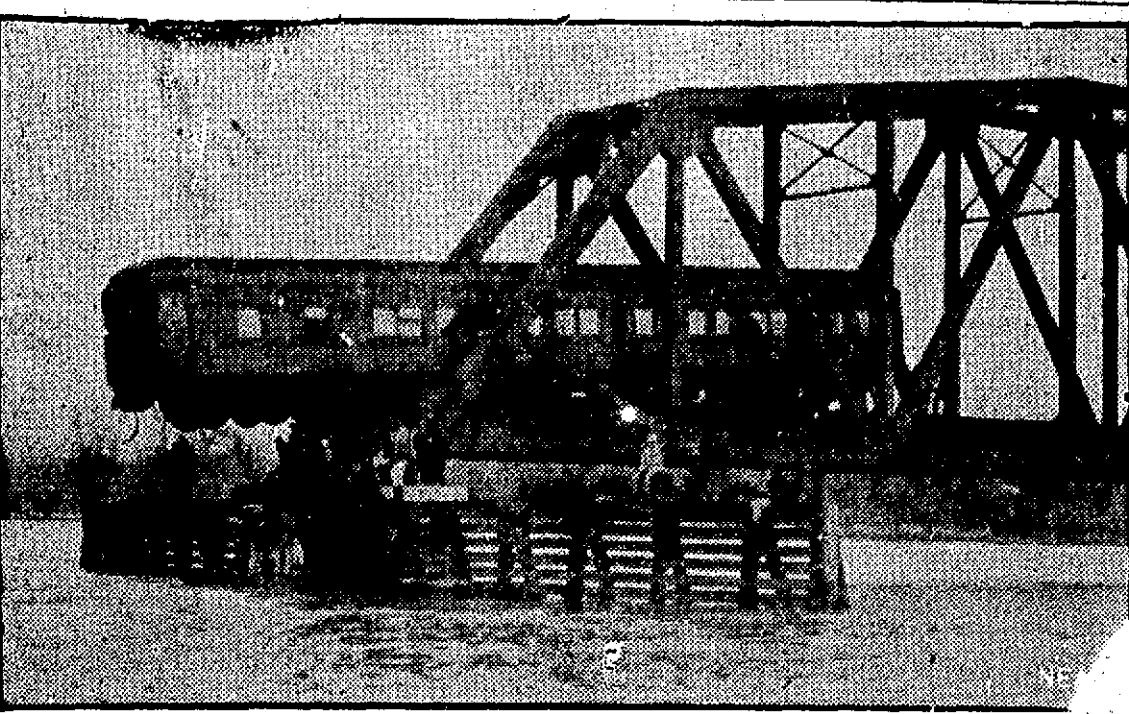

Gerold explained also that numerous monuments, marks, signs and stakes which formed the county line disappeared long ago.

The commissioners were advised that since the ends of the line were known and most of the land along the course was rough, wooded terrain, aerial mapping would save the county much time and money.

Chilean Air Minded

STRATFORD, Conn.—(AP)—Captain Boris Sergievsky, chief test pilot for the Sikorsky Aviation Corporation, has made an aviation enthusiast of the president of Chile, Don Carlos Ibanez Del Campo, according to a report received here. Sergievsky told factory officials he took the president for a two and one-half hour flight in a Sikorsky amphibian which he recently flew to Chile.

Hanging On Edge of Death

This Pullman coach hung perilously on the end of an open drawbridge when the Pan-American, L. & N. fast passenger train, passed a signal and the locomotive and a combination club and baggage car dropped into the Mobile river, near Mobile, Ala. Four lives were lost and a score of passengers narrowly escaped.

49 Attend Legion Meeting Held Here

Twelfth Anniversary of Organization to Be Celebrated

Forty-three Legionnaires and six former service men met at the Legion headquarters in the former vacant store room on Front street Thursday night for the first regular meeting of the month. Before the meeting had progressed far, the six former service men had joined the organization of their buddies. This was one of the largest meetings of the local post.

John Vesey, former post commander; Barney Hamm, district commander; Robert Wilson, post services officer; and George Deering, made short and interesting talks. Plans were made for celebrating the twelfth anniversary of the organization of the American Legion, on Monday, March 16th, at the City Hall here. L. J. Kosminsky, of Texarkana, and former state commander, has been invited to speak.

Sandwiches, cakes and coffee were served at the close of the meet, as a surprise provided by some of the members of the post.

John Vesey, Lee Ellis and George Deering are to address the Spring Hill school, at their assembly, Friday afternoon, on interesting side-lights of their war-time experiences.

Washington Statue Valued at Millions

RICHMOND, Va.—(AP)—A fortune stands in plain view in the Virginia capital.

It is the Houdon statue of Washington. Gov. John Garland Polard has ascertained that collectors would pay $5,000,000 or more for this statue beneath the rotunda.

"But it isn't for sale," the Governor said.

Washington, himself, viewed the work and approved it.

Slayer of Deputy Sheriff Cleared

Jury Decides O. K. Warnick Justified in Killing Travis Powell

HARRISBURG—A jury in Circuit Court Thursday afternoon decided that O. K. Warnick, farmer, was justified in killing Travis Powell, a deputy sheriff at a dance near Lepanto April 7 and released Warnick. The verdict of not guilty was returned after an hour's deliberation.

Prosecuting Attorney S. L. Gladish made a plea for the death penalty.

The state introduced witnesses who testified that Warnick shot Powell after an argument, without provocation, while defense lawyers introduced witnesses who testified that the officer beat Warnick with a blackjack before the fatal shooting.

The court turned its attention to minor cases after the Warnick trial, the first of 12 murder trials slated for this term of court.

The case of Ed Lamar charged with highway robbery, was scheduled for the first order of business at Friday's session of court.

Among the murder cases scheduled are George Wilbanks, charged with killing his brother, Dave Wilbanks; L. E. Keith, charged with killing E. Bailey; Floyd Hoagland, charged with killing Johnny Chadwick, and Charles "Scarface" McCullers, awaiting a new trial for slaying Agnew Mardis.

Yale House Plan to Cut Class Games

NEW HAVEN, Conn.—(AP)—With the inauguration of the House Plan, Yale is expected to cut its schedule of intercollegiate football games to five or six and introduce intra-mural contests, according to Professor R. Sheldon Rose, chairman of the Athletic Board of Control.

Eventually Yale may follow the suggestion of President A. Lawrence Lowell of Harvard and eliminate all outside games except the Yale-Harvard fixture, but not for many years, it is believed.

The House Plan also will eliminate professional coaches.

Vicar Declares Closed Season on Clergy

CATTERICK, Yorkshire.—(AP)—The Rev. J. F. Spink, Vicar of Catterick, has declared a closed season for the clergy.

He recently issued this message to his parishioners:

"It is ordained that the closed season for clergy shall extend from January 1 to December 31. This notice is meant to be taken seriously by the young sportsman who, under cover of darkness, discharged bullets through the vicarage windows to flatten themselves out on the wall of the vicar's bedroom."

Calion Bridge Is Dedicated Friday

Record Crowd Gathers for Opening of Ouachita River Structure

EL DORADO—South Arkansas Friday celebrated the opening of the highway bridge across the Ouachita river at Calion, and citizens from a dozen counties were gathered.

Motor boat racing was a feature. Old fiddlers' contests, horseshoe tournaments, band concerts, general speaking, special theatre attractions and a dance were among the entertainments.

Dwight Blackwood, chairman of the state Highway Commission, delivered the formal address.

A wedding, symbolic of the union of the two sections of Arkansas, opened the celebration here after the exercises at the bridge.

Accident Victim Bleeds to Death

Slight Gash in Ankle Fatal For W. C. Venable, Ogemaw Bookkeeper

CAMDEN—W. C. Venable, aged 34, bookkeeper for the Ogemaw Lumber company, bled to death Thursday night from a gash in his right ankle, caused when his foot was thrust through the windshield of an auto in a wreck on the Camden-Stephens highway.

The seriousness of the wound was not noted at first by his companion, who was taking Venable to his home at Ogemaw, 18 miles south. On reaching Ogemaw he found Venable dead beside him in the car. An artery had been severed.

Funeral services were held Friday at the First Baptist church here. He is survived by his wife and one son, Harrell; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Venable of Eagle Mills; four brothers, Aubrey Venable of Little Rock; Ben Venable of Smackover; J. Russel Venable, Eagle Mills, and Word Venable, Eagle Mills; one sister, Alice Venable of Eagle Mills.

Plant to Improve Manganese Ore Planned

CUSHMAN—Edward F. Goltra, St. Louis furnace man, and Wilson Bradley of Deerwood, Minn., inventor of the Bradley process for manganese ore, spent last week at Cushman investigating manganese. They plan to build a plant embodying the Bradley process at some central point and work low grade deposits. The plant if built will cost several million dollars.

This field has large deposits of low grade manganese ore which is available for the Bradley beneficiation process.

'Endless-Chain' Pig Club Distributes Blooded Stock

CLEVELAND, Tenn.—(AP)—Now comes the "endless chain" idea in pig clubs.

Two such chains have been started here. The movement has worked successfully, so far, and agricultural leaders see in it a boon to the purebred hog industry.

The boys receiving the pigs are required to have them registered, bred to a registered male, and out of the first litter of pigs to turn over two sow pigs to the agricultural department for further distribution.

Senate Passes Bill Urging Payment of $2,500,000 Overdue

To Obtain Money By Sale of Promissory Notes Issued By State

REPEAL CIGAR TAX

Official and Government Employee Salary Tax Bill Postponed

LITTLE ROCK.—(AP)—Hope of early payment of almost $2,500,000 in teachers salaries, due since the opening of the school term was promised by an action in the senate Friday in approving without a dissenting vote two bills authorizing the state to sell promissory notes for which the income of the school equalizing fund be pledged for repayment.

One of the measures authorized the state debt board to sell five million state promissory notes to pay the salaries for the entire term ending July 1.

The other measure appropriates five million from the school equalizing fund, which would accrue to the sale of promissory notes.

The house approved a drastic bill against the issuance of deficiency proclamations which Representative Cannon of Hempstead county said was favored by Governor Parnell. This bill makes it unlawful for any state department or institution to allow a deficiency in excess of the regular appropriation.

Another measure coming up in the house which was repealed was a ten per cent tax on cigars.

LITTLE ROCK.—(AP)—By a vote of 39 to 32 the house Friday postponed indefinitely a bill to levy a tax of one per cent on the salaries of public officials, teachers and other governmental employees for payment of the old age pensions.

The senate voting 19 to 1 passed a bill to levy a privilege tax on vending and slot machine proceeds to go to the school equalizing fund. This tax ranges from $2.50 to $10.00 per machine.

Banks Must Delay Loan Collections

Regulation Requiring Banks Hold Notes Six Months Still in Force

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—Banks increasing loans to veterans from 22½ to 50 per cent of their certificate value waive the collection rights on the old paper the Veterans Bureau decided Friday. In explanation, they say, a bank could not issue a new note for half of the certificate value covering the old loan and present it immediately for collection.

A regulation requiring banks to hold notes for six months before submission for collection still remains in force.

Combined loans in a new note is considered as a new loan, eligible for collection six months after issuance.

Robert Wilson, service officer of the local Legion post, has made several unsuccessful attempts to get a ruling on this matter from the Little Rock Veterans bureau by telephone Friday. However, the dispatch refers only to loans formerly held by banks, in his opinion; and will not delay payment of an increased loan, over and above the bank loan.

Wounded Youth Likely Will Die

"Red" Melott, White Co., Shot Down By His Brother-in-Law

BRADFORD—"Red" Melott, shot and probably fatally wounded by his brother-in-law, Allie Stennett, near his home five miles east of Bradford Thursday is at the home of his father with only a slight chance to recover. Stennett came to Bradford and surrendered. He is in jail at Searcy. Both are young men.

Stennett told officers that the shooting was the result of Melott's continual overbearing attitude, that he became enraged at being bullied and opened fire on Melott with a shotgun loaded with No. 4 shot. Melott was standing on the bank of the White river when he was shot and fell back into the water. He was rescued by persons standing near.

Melott was struck in the throat and shoulders by the load of shot.

Mother and Son Students

MARSHALL, Mo.—(AP)—A mother and her son are students at Missouri Valley College here. Mrs. Margaret Jones is a freshman, and her son, Edwin, is a senior.

The Star's Platform

CITY

Apply the revenues of the municipal power plant to develop the industrial and social resources of Hope.

More city pavement in 1931, and improved sanitary conditions in the alleys and business back-yards.

COUNTY

A county highway program providing for the construction of a certain amount of all-weather road each year, to gradually reduce the dirt-road mileage.

Political and economic support for every scientific agricultural program which offers practical benefits to Hempstead county's great industry.

Encourage farmer organizations, believing that co-operative effort is as practical in the country as it is in town.

STATE

Continued progress on the state highway program.

Feasible tax reform, and a more efficient government through the budget system of expenditures.

Free Arkansas from the cattle tick.

Debunking Great Men

It would be interesting to know just why the general run of mankind is always so eager to see great men toppled off of their pedestals.

Biographers in recent years have discovered that such an eagerness exists, and have taken advantage of it. The most striking current work in this field is Edgar Lee Masters' life of Lincoln, in which the Civil War president is pictured as an egotistic and shallow politician, fumbling and incompetent; but this book is only one among many.

George Edinger and E. J. C. Neep recently wrote a life of Britain's Admiral Nelson, depicting him as a small man, mean, vain and disobedient. A popular biography of President Woodrow Wilson last year displayed the famous German as a somewhat dull and pompous figurehead. Marshal Joffre of France has been given the same treatment. The George Washington biographies of a few years ago are probably too well remembered to need discussion.

It is not especially to the point in this connection to inquire whether or not the attacks in these biographies are justified by the evidence. The point is that the books were and are successful. People hurried to buy and read them. You can always make a stir, and sell a lot of books, by discovering that some popular idol had feet of clay. Why should that be?

Perhaps it is chiefly because a great man—especially one whose life is a generation or so removed from us—tends to grow unreal, to look like a figure out of an old-fashioned state painting. We see Washington, for example, not as a human being but as a dignified and imposing demi-god, poised in a boat in the ice-strewn Delaware or seated loftily on a self-conscious horse. To learn that he swore like an angry artilleryman at the battle of Monmouth, or that he was mildly fond of strong liquor and pretty ladies, is to put the blood of life into his veins. We feel our own kinship with him strengthened.

Yet there seems to be more to it than that; and part of it, perhaps, is a growing belief that men generally are somewhat less noble and capable and virtuous than they are supposed to be. This age has been badly disillusioned in several ways, and cynicism is more prevalent than ever before. We have seen corruption, incompetence and petty scheming on the part of so many of our own public men that we assume all heroes of the old days must have been of the same stripe. It is hard for us to understand an era that could demand leaders of a loftier kind; so, by belittling legendary greatness, we make past history understandable.

The Gasoline Tax Burden

EVEN in years of depression the tax collector prospers. True, collection of taxes without penalty in Arkansas may be shifted from April to October, but even then the levies will have to be paid. And then there is the addition of one cent tax on every gallon of gasoline. The gasoline tax has gotten out of all proportion to the price of the gas.

Figures show that in 1930 the public paid $525,000,000 in gasoline taxes in this country, establishing a new high record—$73,000,000 above the 1929 total. In some states, Arkansas included, over 20 per cent of the retail price of gasoline is paid in taxes. The public is willing to pay a reasonable tax for building and maintenance of good roads, but there is constant pressure to increase this tax as there is constant pressure to increase every other tax.

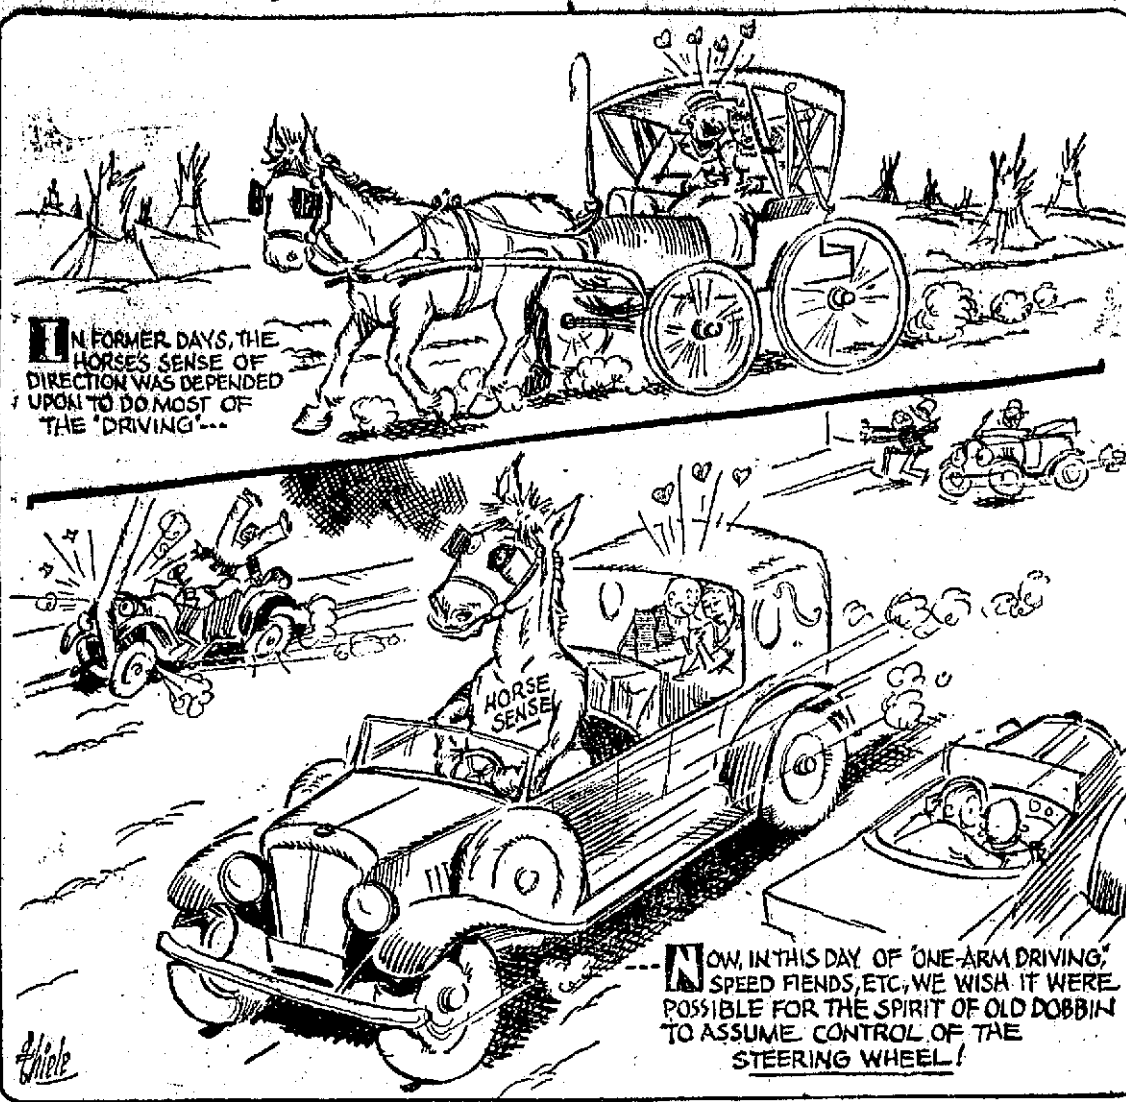

The tax burden imposed on the people by the politicians must be eased. At the recent annual convention of National Association of State Auditors, Comptrollers and Treasurers, treasurer Johnson of West Virginia declared that states must learn to live within their income the same as the frugal housewife does in the home. He declared he was convinced that at last 40 cents out of every tax dollar in the United States is wasted.

The average wage earner, he declared, contributes one day's work each week for taxes. Individual and business institutions last year had a total income of over $87,000,000,000 of which $18,000,000,000 was taken for taxes according to Mr. Johnson. Governments are overmanned by 25 per cent, he said, and one person out of every ten works for government, national, state and local.

The people will never get tax relief so long as they acquiesce quietly to tax increases, or accept new methods of taxation which, in reality, are a sort of legislative buck-passing. Taking a tax dollar off one kind of property and putting it on another benefits no one in the long run.—Hot Springs New Era.

That belated touch of winter was typical of springlike weather that always comes with it. The weather this year has been all that could be desired, but just about the normal for this section of the country.

A Little More Horse Sense Needed in the Driver's Seat!

Daily WASHINGTON LETTER

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON.—The Senate is very proud of its rules, which allow unlimited debate, and turns savagely upon anyone who urges that they be changed. It is one "forum of freedom" where any member can say whatever he likes, at any length, without intimidation or curtailment.

And, of course, it is also a place which has attracted some of the most boring windbags any country has ever produced. Newspaper readers who have given fragments of the things that are said on the floors of Congress haven't the least idea of the tremendous volume of guff and dull detail which they are fortunate enough to miss.

Frequently, however, they miss something really snappy, such as the sparkling exchange of amenities between Caraway of Arkansas and Fess of Ohio, the other day, when Fess held the chair as presiding officer. Everybody was talking about the bill to lend veterans more money; on their bonus certificates and how soon it could be voted on. It went like this, to quote verbatim from the Congressional Record:

Mr. Caraway: Mr. President—The Presiding Officer: The Senator from Michigan. (Cousens.) Mr. Caraway: Mr. President, I want to call attention to the fact that I was on my feet before the senator from Michigan arose, and addressed the chair before the senator from Michigan arose.

The Presiding Officer: The chair will state that the senator from Michigan tried to get the floor when the senator from Georgia was recognized.

Mr. Cousens: Before the senator from Georgia did. I beg the senator's pardon; I was on my feet.

Mr. Caraway: Let me ask if it is the rule, then, that if a senator addresses the chair and sits down or goes to lunch he is entitled to take the floor when he comes back. Mr. Cousens: I do not object to yielding to the senator if he wants to go on at this time.

Mr. Caraway: That is not the point. I am objecting most seriously to this way of the chair sitting there and ignoring some senator who rises and addresses him and picking out some senator on the other side who is not on the floor. The Presiding Officer: The chair will state to the senator from Arkansas that the senator from Michigan was trying to secure recognition from the chair when the senator from Georgia arose.

Mr. Caraway: Then why did not the chair recognize him then? Why does the chair wait until some other senator rises and then recognize a senator who is not on his feet?

The Presiding Officer: The chair thought he was playing fair with both sides. Mr. Caraway: Oh, the chair recognizes some senator who is not on his feet when he is being addressed by a senator who is on his feet.

The Presiding Officer: The senator from Michigan. Mr. Watson (of Indiana): Mr. President, who has the floor?

Mr. Caraway: Just a minute. I have the floor more than the senator from Indiana has.

The Presiding Officer: The senator from Michigan has the floor. Mr. Caraway: I am asking a parliamentary question. I have the floor for that purpose, even with the senator from Ohio in the chair.

The Presiding Officer: The senator will state his parliamentary question.

Mr. Caraway: I am asking when the rule was changed so that the chair refuses to recognize a senator on the floor and picks out some senator who is not on his feet.

The Presiding Officer: There has been no change of the rules in that respect.

Mr. Caraway: Then the chair arrogates to himself that authority.

The Presiding Officer: The senator from Michigan.

Mr. Caraway: There is nothing new about this, of course, as long as the senator from Ohio is in the chair, but I am objecting to it.

The Presiding Officer: The Senate will be in order. The senator from Michigan has the floor.

Mr. Caraway: Just a minute. (Etc.)

BARBS

Andy Mellon, loathe to part with the cash voted for certain appropriations, might, of course, prevail upon Congress to observe Thrift Week.

A "Thrift Week" may mean a lot to some people, but in Scotland it is just another week.

It won't be long now before the first symptoms of love sickness will begin to show; you know, those "dizzy" spells.

A professor asks why it is good times always approach when women's skirts grow shorter. Well, in the old times it meant more hustle and bustle.

LANEBURG

The Laneburg boys and girls defeated the Springhill boys and girls here last week. The games were very good and fast.

The Laneburg boys came out second in the Basketball Tournament at Willitsville Saturday.

A large crowd attended the dance given at Mr. Will Roach's home Thursday evening.

Scholarships valued at $50,000 will be available to 4-H club boys and girls in South Carolina this year.

FORCED DOWN SCANTY MEALS

Black-Draught Benefited Kentucky Man Who Had Been In Poor Health.

Georgetown, Ky.—Believing that an account of his experience might be of assistance to people suffering from complaints which Black-Draught should relieve, Mr. C. E. Penn, 115 Stone Ave., this city says:

"In regard to Black-Draught, I want it known what it has done for me and how thankful I am. For several years, I had been in poor health. I could not eat and did not relish the small amount of food I managed to force down. I had no energy, was tired all the time, also troubled with constipation. I fell off in weight from 187 to 145 pounds.

I was telling a friend of mine how I felt, and he told me he had been in the same fix and advised me to try Black-Draught. This I did, and you do not know how much better I feel in every way. I can eat three square meals a day. I feel like a man 30 years old instead of 60."

This well-known medicine has been in use nearly 100 years, and its popularity is constantly increasing, as growing sales clearly prove. Costs only 1¢ a dose.

SOCIETY

Mrs. Sid Henry Telephone 321

There are loyal hearts, there are spirits brave.
There are souls that are pure and true;
Then give to the world the best you
have.
And the best will come back to you.
Give truth, and your gifts will be paid in kind.
And a song a song will meet;
And the smile which is sweet will surely find
A smile that is just as sweet.
Give pity and sorrow to those who mourn;
You will gather in flowers again
The scattered seeds from your thought outborn.
Though the sowing seemed in vain.
For life is the morrow of kind
and slave,
'Tis just what we are and do;
Then give to the world the best you
have
And the best will come back to you.

Mrs. M. A. West and Mrs. Chas.
Wilkin spent Wednesday visiting in Texarkana.

W. S. Atkins has returned from a business trip to Little Rock.

Mrs. Wilbur Jones and Mrs. Bonner Barrow of Ozon were shopping in the city Thursday.

The members of the Thursday
Bridge Club and a few special guests were entertained on Thursday afternoon by Mrs. Ernest Wingfield at her home on North Pine street. The St.
Patrick cards were observed most beautifully in the decorations, bridge accessories and refreshments. Prizes went to Mrs. Clyde Yarbrough, Mrs.
Thos. Kinsler and Mrs. R. L. Gosnell.
Following the game, a delicious salad
was served.

Yesterday marked the thirty-fifth anniversary of the organization of the Pat Cleburne Chapter of the United Daughters of the Confederacy. This chapter has the distinction of being the first chapter organized in the state, and the second chapter organized west of the Mississippi river.
The Pat Cleburne chapter was organized in this city, March 7, 1896, by the late Mrs. C. A. Fortney-Smith at the old Presbyterian church, with only the requisite number, seven.
The charter members of the chapter were Mrs. C. A. Fortney, Mrs. Mary
T. Bell, Mrs. Thos. M. Simms, Mrs.
C. A. Bridwell, Mrs. Mary Haynes,
Mrs. Robert Penney. In the last 35 years the state organization has grown from one to forty-nine or more live, wide awake functioning chapters,
with a membership of over 3000.
On yesterday afternoon at the home of Miss Zenobia Reed on South Elm street with Mrs. W. W. Duckett, Mrs.
C. S. Lowthorp and Miss Maggie Bell
as associate hostesses, the Pat Cleburne chapter celebrated the 35th anniversary of the organization with an appropriate program, the outstanding feature being the reading of the minutes of the first meeting of the chapter by Miss B. H. Duckett. A memorial to our dead by Mrs. C. S.
Lowthorp, and the reading of an interesting account of the barbecue giv-

Plays Politics

NEA San Diego Bureau
Sixteen-year-old Artemista Calles, above, youngest daughter of ex-President Calles of Mexico, can show her noted father a thing or two in the game of politics. Seeking election as carnival queen at an exclusive San Diego, Calif., school, where she attends, Miss Calles wired political friends in Mexico City for their support;
the aid of the Mexican consul was forthwith enlisted and when the balloting ended Miss Calles was 8000 votes ahead of her nearest competitor.

written by the late Captain C. A.
Bridwell, who assisted in the organization of the Pat Cleburne Chapter.
Mrs. E. S. Richards, who appeared on one of the first programs of the chapter, gave a piano selection, and following the roll call of past Chapter presidents the meeting closed with Mrs. Wilbur Jones of Ozon playing a medley of Southern airs. The meeting was presided over by Mrs. R. T.
White, chapter president.

The Order of the Eastern Star held their regular meeting last evening in the Masonic hall, with the Deputy Grand Lecturer, Miss Nettie Hanna of Texarkana as guest of honor. The meeting was presided over by Mrs.
Essie Wood, Worthy Matron of Tex-arkana, Chapter No. 78, assisted by George Book, Worthy Patron of the Texarkana chapter. A most instructive and interesting lecture was given by Mrs. Hanna. During the social hour a delicious salad plate was served. The Texarkana chapter was represented by the following: Mr. and Mrs. Ed Hanna, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard
Finley, Mrs. Elmer Beth Turner, Mrs.
Helen DeCamp, Mrs. Gussie Randel,
Mrs. Gertrude Palmer and Mrs. Carrie
Boise and Mrs. Senna Lee of Wisconsin.

Mrs. S. L. Murphey entertained at an attractive bridge party Thursday evening at her home on South Shover street as special compliment to Miss Lucille Murphy of Leesville, La., and a surprise birthday anniversary celebration for Miss Omer Evans. The rooms were beautifully decorated with a quantity of spring flowers, the color scheme stressing the St. Patrick motif. Bridge was played from three tables, with Miss Wyble Wimberly scoring high. The honorees were presented with dainty gifts of remembrance. After a series of pleasant games, the hostess assisted by Mrs. T.
Coleman and Mrs. Alfred Brannan served a most tempting salad plate.

Mrs. Carl Copeland entertained at bridge Thursday night in honor of her husband's birthday. Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Dave Peterson, Mr. and Mrs. Burger Jones,
Mrs. George Green and Mrs. Ray Allen. Mr. and Mrs. Peterson won high score.

There will be preaching services at Water Creek church, seven miles west of Hope on the Fulton highway on the second Sunday in March, which is the 8th.

Elder J. W. Ward will preach. The public is cordially invited to attend this service.

400 Heirs Battle to Win $300,000

CLINTON, Ill.—(U.P.)—An estate, valued at $300,000 has been claimed here by more than 400 heirs, many of whom live in Ireland.

The estate is that left by the late Jefferson Doyle who died in 1923
without leaving a will or near heirs.
A search for heirs brought forth several hundred persons to claim a share.
Recently a hearing lasting more than a month was held in Dublin, Ireland, to receive evidence on the claim of William Dunne, Dublin, who declares
he and 16 other relatives are the only heirs.

To date there have been about 30 hearings in connection with claims of the alleged heirs and volumes of evidence have been heard in the DeWitt county circuit court here.

Millions of Meteors Hit Earth's Atmosphere Daily

IOWA CITY, Ia.—(AP)—Eight hundred million meteors a day striking earth's atmosphere is the latest estimate.

It is given in a report to the American Association for the Advancement of Science by Prof. Charles C. Wylie
of the University of Iowa.

These include the meteors too small to be observed without telescopes.
The "lacked eye" meteors, Prof. Wylie estimates at about 24,000,000 daily,
very close to the figure given by Sir Isaac Newton.

About 300 meteors a year get through the atmosphere and actually hit the United States, according to Wylie's estimates, based on figures that probably one meteor a year
strikes for each 10,000 square miles.
Few are seen, because they are mostly small.

New Portrait of Dante Found in Old Church

FLORENCE.—(U.P.)—A new 14th Century portrait of Dante came to light in the church of St. Dominic at Pisa-tola during the restorations. The church has recently returned into the hands of the Dominicans, and in examining the walls portions of disfigured frescoes were found.

In one of these, in a medallion, there appear the busts of Dante and Petrarch and a third person unknown.
The names Dante and Petrarch appear
under the figures written by the original artist.

The find is considered a valuable one for Dante iconography.

All Negro Jury Finds White Prisoner Guilty

MIDDLETON, Ohio.—(U.P.)—A jury composed entirely of negroes recently found Patrick Feed, 51, a "voodoo" gunman, guilty of shooting with intention to kill. The verdict carried a sentence of from one to 15 years in the penitentiary.

Feed was apprehended and held for trial following the shooting of Mrs.
Mollie Gilbert, his former landlady,
several months ago.

Egg Carries Fine Portrait of Woman

GONZALES, Tex.—(U.P.)—A hen egg, bearing the distinct feature of a woman with a half smile on her face and her left arm upraised, was exhibited here today by Mrs. D. M. Livingston.
The artistic process of the Rhode Island Red hen was discovered when Mrs. Livingston peeled the shell from a hard-boiled egg she was preparing for a salad. The picture looked as if it had been traced on the egg with a needle point.

Caught Cold Storage Fish

BARNSTABLE, Mass.—(U.P.)—James Eldredge was puzzled when he found
he had caught several salt water fish
in his traps in a fresh water pond.
Finally friends explained that the codfish had been obtained at a cold storage plant and placed in the traps as a practical joke.

Nature Thought of Everything

Nature thought of everything when the human body was made. When the body is about to become ill, nature planned danger signals to warn us.
Thus if our children grind their teeth
when they sleep, or lack appetite, or suffer from abdominal pains, or itch about the nose and fingers, we should know that they may have contracted worms. Then, if we are wise, we buy a bottle of White's Cream Vermifuge and safely and surely expel the worms. Thus we avoid the danger of very serious trouble. White's Cream Vermifuge costs only 35c a bottle, and can be bought from Ward & Son, Second St. Hope,
Crescent Drug Store, S. Main, Hope.

Victim of Racketeers' Vengeance In New York

The mysterious murder of pretty Vivian Gordon, above, has added a new melodramatic complication to New York's vice investigation. The former actress and fashion model, whose body was found at the foot of a steep embankment, had previously threatened to reveal to authorities a "frame-up" by police officers and others." A search was instituted for the driver of a taxi into which Miss Gordon was believed to have been lured when her unknown slayer strangled her to death with a clothesline.

Ford Building Turbine Boats For Boxed Freight

DETROIT.—(U.P.)—The first turbine boats of their type—300 foot all steel cargo ships—are being constructed for the Ford Motor Company for service between the Great Lakes and the Atlantic seaboard.

The ships are being constructed by the Great Lakes Engineering Works, River Rouge, Mich. They will be powered by twin 800-horsepower general turbines driven by steam from oil burning boilers. The ships will have a speed of 4 miles an hour, and will be manned by crews of 17.

Capacity will be 2,000 tons of boxed freight.

During the recent development of an East Texas oil field the population of Longview tripled in three weeks.

Organizations of both feminine wets
and drays took exhibit space for the Women's Exposition in the St. Louis
Coliseum March 5-11.

Loose Clothing Aids Women Fight Flu

LONDON.—(U.P.)—Women are far less susceptible to influenza than men because of their sensible, loose clothing.
British medical men have discovered.
During a recent influenza wave
here, men victims were far more numerous than women. Dr. Alfred C. Jordan, secretary of the Men's Dress Reform Party, attributes men's susceptibility to the disease largely to their tight-fitting collars, vests and coats.

HOOKS AND SLIDES

by William Braucher

Waning Wonders
Every year the Pittsburgh Pirates take a championship ball to spring training camp, and Ole Man Hoodoo always takes the train. This year Boss Jewel, who did pretty well with a crippled gang of buccaneers last season, is praying for the Wonders to quit waning, but already the lightning has struck.

Paul Waner the other day reported to the hospital as is his usual custom and this time he had a badly infected leg. Bathing in Florida he stuck his foot into the mouth of a man-eating denizen of the ocean depths. Perhaps he wanted to find out if it had teeth. Or if being bitten by a barracuda was anything like being bitten by Barney Dreyfuss.

At any rate he came off second best in the battle with the barracuda, if barracuda it was, and has been put on the shelf for repairs even before the training period gets under way.

Argues With Prexy
BESIDES his leg infection, Paul has literally put his foot into it time and again by arguing with Prexy Dreyfuss about the matter of financial reward. Mr. Dreyfuss has his own ideas of the wages of ball players, and doesn't like to be told he is wrong. Pittsburgh has sent away a lot of good men who couldn't be won over to Herr Dreyfuss' monetary policies.

Last year Brother Lloyd was the waner who did the waning. He didn't rally quickly enough from an operation for appendicitis to be any good to the Pirates through most of the season. For a time it was feared he might never play ball again. Toward the latter part of the season he played off and on, and his strength seemed to be returning. Now that he appears to be unwaned again, it is Brother

Wisconsin Honors Famed Indian Chief With Bridge
DROTLA, Wis.—(U.P.)—Completion of the $100,000 Black Hawk bridge, now under construction over the Mississippi river, between here and Lansing, La., will bring to realization a dream of more than 30 years.

The bridge has been named as a memorial to a great chief of the Sac and Fox Indian tribes of a century ago. It will be exactly 100 years ago next summer that Black Hawk led his warriors in their last stand at Bad Axe on Battle Island, near here.

After his last defeat, Black Hawk traveled throughout the country making speeches. He settled in Davis county, Ia., where he died in 1838.

Newest round-the-world air tourists, Richard Halliburton (right), young American adventurer-author, and Moya Stephens, pilot, are shown here as they arrived in London to start a globe-trotting flight. In their plane, "The Flying Carpet," they expect to make a leisurely voyage, following the path of the Crusaders across Europe to the Holy Land.

Arkansas Has Four Ex-All-Americans

All Are Former Students of Arkansas University at Fayetteville

FAYETTEVILLE.—(U.P.)—Although the University of Arkansas doesn't have any active all-American athletes this year the Razorback school can boast four former all-Americans.

Wen "Juke" Schoonover, all-American football and basketball man in 1929-30, is enrolled in the university law school. Schoonover was an all-Southwest conference athlete in football for two years and basketball three seasons. The husky six-footer earned letters in football, basketball, baseball and track during his three years of varsity competition. Schoonover was captain of the conference championship basketball team in 1930.

Tom Murphy, regular forward on the Arkansas cage team this year and captain of the frosh basketball squad last season, was an all-American cage star in high school circles. Murphy was selected as captain and guard in 1927 when he led the Batesville (Ark.) high school quintet to the runnerup position in the national tourney at Chicago.

Jim Pickren, captain of the Razorbacks basketball five this season, was an all-American the same year Murphy was named captain. Pickren was given a second team berth at center, the position he played on the Batesville team. Last year the Porter captain was named on the mythical Southwest conference team.

Clifford Shaw, professional baseball player and student in the university, was an all-American prep school quarterback in 1926. Shaw played with the Little Rock (Ark.) high school eleven and was an all-state man in four sports for three consecutive years.

After leaving high school Shaw was signed by the Little Rock Southern Association baseball club. Last season he was chosen the most valuable man to his team while with Monroe (La.) in the Cotton States League. He has been sold to the Ft. Worth (Tex.) League Cats. Shaw has been on the Arkansas coaching staff for the past four years and has officiated in sporting events over Arkansas and Oklahoma.

Tom Pickell, all-American basketball guard, in 1929, is not in school this year. Pickell, an all-conference man for three years, is attending school in California, where he has been gaining much recognition for his athletic prowess with a Los Angeles athletic club.

McCann will tell of his newspaper experiences as a correspondent in Washington, London and other foreign stations.

Bowling Fans See Contest Thursday

City Team Victorious Over Schneiker Team in a Hard Fought Game

A large crowd witnessed the bowling Thursday night between the City team and the Schneiker team, who were contestants for the evening.

From the beginning it was a closely contested game, ending with the City team victors by 107 pins.

Floyd of the City team bowled the high score of the evening, making 188.

Monday night the City team will go up against the strong Ritchie Grocer Company team at 7:45.

Announcer Starts Fire

LAPORTE, Ind.—(U.P.)—"Hot" words from a radio program became so heated they set the loud speaker on fire and painfully burned William I. Williams, who was listening to the program. The fire was thought to have been started by voice vibrations of the announcer, which shook the wires on the radio and caused a short circuit.

London Ponders Over Queen's "Black List"

LONDON.—(U.P.)—Queen Mary's "Black List" is being referred to often as the time nears for the selection of those women who are to be given the privilege of spending thousands of dollars in preparation for presentation at court.

The "list" included all society women who have been divorced, or who have been involved in matrimonial cases as "guilty parties." These she refuses to allow to be presented.

Each application is carefully scrutinized by the Lord Chamberlain's department.

Paraffin Helps Shovelers

SANFORD, Me.—(U.P.)—Snow shovelers in other parts of the country may be handicapped because snow clings to their shovels, but locally that problem has been solved. Farmer Deputy Sheriff Newell T. Fogg conceived the idea of coating shovels with paraffin, and this plan is now being used successfully throughout the town.

British Railroads Still Hard Hit By Depression

LONDON.—(U.P.)—Any recovery in business or lessening in economic depression is as yet unknown to the British railroads.

The railroad barometer of passengers and parcels, merchandise, and coal and coke traffic all show a sizeable decrease during the first four weeks of 1931, as compared with the same period of 1930.

Merchandise revenue is down $3,695,700. The total loss for January of this year, as compared with January of last year is $6,280,750.

Kentucky auto license tags cost the state less than seven cents a pair this year, as made by prison labor.

MAD MARRIAGE

by LAURA LOU BROOKMAN Author of 'HEART HUNGRY' etc.

BEGIN HERE TODAY
Gypsy, however, is typical in a New York office, in delayed at work on the morning when she is to meet the man bringing ALAN CROSBY home from a year and a half studying in Paris. Gypsy is so eager to meet Alan she does not take time to check the figures in her work. CLARA HOWARD, also an employee, knows that Gypsy has neglected her work.

Gypsy has known Crosby since the days when both of them lived at the same cheap rooming house and is greatly interested in his success. Crosby's study abroad was made possible by a scholarship. The couple are not engaged, but there has been an "understanding" between them and Gypsy is sure he will be as fond of her as when he departed.

She remembers the place just as the gangplank is lowered, sees Crosby and calls out his name.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY
CHAPTER II

THERE was no sign of recognition on Alan Crosby's face. He came down the gangplank slowly. His gray topcoat was tasteful, inconspicuous. The gray felt hat lowered over his eyes had the faintest touch of the picturesque in its tilt. Crosby stood half a head above his neighbors. His features were clear-cut, pleasing, and there was an air of distinction about the young man. He had dark eyes and fair skin. His eyes roved the crowd at the foot of the gangplank.

"Alan!" Gypsy cried again.

He heard her. A smile lighted his face and he hurried toward the girl. Gypsy ran to meet him, flung herself into his arms.

"Oh, Alan—I'm so glad you're back! I'm so glad that you've come at last!"

"Oh, Alan—I'm so glad you're back!"

"Gypsy" Crosby's voice came cheerfully, heartily. "This is a surprise—I didn't expect to see you here! Say, you're looking great!"

"So are you, Alan!"

The girl's face was radiant. A slight hesitation, then Alan's lips parted somewhere between Gypsy's right ear and forehead.

"Why, you haven't changed at all!" he grinned. "Same turned-up nose. Same crop of freckles! No sir, haven't changed a bit." He held her off at arm's length and gazed down at her.

Gypsy loved his teasing. She knew she hadn't a turned-up nose though Alan had always said so. She didn't mind the freckles which once they had quarreled over.

She had to take rapid, short steps to keep up with him. The panorama of noise and confusion, opened luggage, chattering impatient travelers and unheeded inspectors, became glamorous, now that Crosby was by her side.

"Oh, look, Alan! Look at that woman over there with the funny little monkey!"

Gypsy stopped, aware that the young man was not listening. He had turned and Gypsy's eyes widened as she followed his glance.

Alan was looking far down the pier. A woman stood there. She was dressed in sleek, rich black and her shoulders were wrapped in a luxurious fur scarf. Even Gypsy knew that the costume, the tiny black hat were Parisian. The woman was smiling. She turned so that for an instant Gypsy could see her clearly.

There was a fleeting impression of pale skin and red gold hair. A perfect nose and exotic lips. For the barest moment the woman faced them. Then she raised one gloved hand, waved and disappeared.

Gypsy stopped, stared up at Crosby. She noted the answering smile with which he received the signal. "This was no stranger; this lovely creature was someone Alan knew."

Fear, gripping and terrifying,

fastened itself about Gypsy McBride's heart.

"You—know her?" she asked tremulously.

Crosby's brow lifted. "Know who? What are you talking about?"

"The woman in black—the one who waved? She's beautiful!"

"The young man was casual, too casual, a person of more experience might have said, he laughed easily.

"You're seeing things, Gypsy. There are a dozen women around here wearing black. None of them very beautiful, though, to my mind. I don't know which one you mean!"

"The child about Gypsy's heart half melted. Then it coagulated again.

"I mean the beautiful woman who just went away," she said. "She was standing there. Wearing fur and a little black hat. She waved to you, Alan."

Now it was Alan who seemed confused though he tried elaborately to hide it.

"Oh, you must mean Mrs. Langley," he said carelessly. "At least it sounds like her. Funny—I didn't see her wave. Just a passenger I met on shipboard. Sorry I didn't get around to say goodbye. She'll think me rude."

Another day Gypsy might have doubted. Today she so wanted to believe the explanation.

It was 20 minutes before she and Alan had reached the street and another 10 before they were in a taxicab.

"Where to, Gypsy?"

"Same old place—Mrs. O'Hare's. You're invited to lunch. Oh, you must come!" she went on as Crosby seemed to hesitate. "You must. Alan! She's expecting you."

He gave the driver the address and settled back.

"Well, that's darned nice but you see—"

Gypsy silenced him. "Not another word," she declared. "It's settled. Why I'd lose my happy home if I failed to bring you. You just ought to hear the way Mrs. O'Hare talks about you. Honestly, she calls you a genius!"

Crosby grinned. He covered Gypsy's hand with his own.

"I'll make her my press agent," he said. "All right, I'll come! And now how about you, Gypsy? Tell me all about yourself!"

"But there's nothing to tell! I want to hear about you."

They laughed like youngsters. Partly it was excitement and partly embarrassment. After nearly two years of separation they were finding, as have so many others, that the really important subjects were elusive. They talked of inconsequential things—the day, which was sunny for late February, traffic, the tower of a new skyscraper, a chewing gum advertisement glaring down from the heavens. Crosby was enthusiastic about everything.

"You are glad to be back, aren't you?" Gypsy sighed happily.

"Bright girl! So you've noticed it?"

She didn't mind his laughing at her. Anyhow, Alan was always teasing.

"And you're really glad to see me?"

"Of course I am. You're a sweet kid, Gypsy. Coming all the way to the boat to meet me!"

"You—don't think I've changed, do you, Alan?"

"Madam, you don't look a day over 40! I give you my word for it you don't look a day older."

She chose another subject.

"Tell me about the trip. Tell me about that woman—what was her name?—the one you said you talked to on the boat."

"Oh, nothing very exciting about the trip. We had a little rough weather the second day. There were lots of nice people on board."

"Yes, but I mean the one who was so beautiful! You know, Mrs.—I can't remember what you called her."

"Oh, I guess you mean Mrs. Langley. She's just an American woman who happened to be coming home from Paris. We sat at the same table."

"Must be rich, isn't she?"

"Oh, I don't know."

"Where's her husband?"

"Say—you seem to be unusually interested! She hasn't any husband. She's divorced. That's all I know about her. Is that enough?"

HE was annoyed. Not for the world would Gypsy have had that happen. She sat very still, lashes lowered. Then she heard his voice.

"Now I've hurt your feelings! I'm sorry. Forget it, will you, Gypsy?"

"But there's nothing to forget! Everything's all right—vanity!"

Crosby kissed her. This time on the cheek and tenderly. Almost immediately the cab stopped.

"Why, we're here!" exclaimed the girl. "Does the place look familiar?"

"Certainly does. Oh, oh—new curtains! Gypsy, you should have prepared me for the shock. New curtains! Otherwise I'd swear it was yesterday that I left."

She ran up the steps ahead of him but before she could push the bell the door opened. Mrs. O'Hare in her best blue silk, her black hair glorified by bobbing ringlets, appeared in the hallway.

"Mr. Crosby!" she cried. "My, but it's grand to see you home again!"

"Thank you, Mrs. O'Hare. It's fine to see you."

"And your old room is waiting for you," the landlady went on crisply. "It's had fresh paint and a new carpet since you saw it last. But never mind about that now. Dinner'll get cold! Come in and let me take your hat and coat. Everything's ready, Gypsy. Come right on to the dining room!"

There was a heartiness about Mrs. O'Hare which swept all else before her. Crosby and Gypsy found themselves in the rear dining room. Other guests crowding about them.

"It's a surprise!" Gypsy explained. "Mrs. O'Hare wouldn't let me tell you. All of the other roomers are here."

Hasty introductions followed. The hostess led Alan to the head of the table. "You're to sit here, Mr. Crosby," she said. "Gypsy you take this chair on the left."

The young man hesitated.

"I wonder—would you mind if I made a telephone call?" he asked.

"Why, certainly not. You remember where the phone is."

It must have been nearly five minutes before the young man returned.

"I'm terribly sorry," he said apologetically, "but I must ask you to excuse me. Something unexpected has come up. It's—it's a business matter. I hope you won't mind?"

The young man smiled winningly. A minute later he was gone.

Directs Alabama Science Session

As president of the Alabama Academy of Science, Dr. Emmett B. Carmichael, above, will preside at a meeting of the academy at Tuscaloosa, March 13 and 14. He is professor of physiological chemistry at the University of Alabama.

Cleveland Will Start 1931 Construction Early

CLEVELAND, Ohio.—(U.P.)—City council committees are expected to act favorably on the issuance of $4,500,000 worth of bonds, to allow an early start on the city's 1931 construction program.

Among the improvements being considered is the straightening of the Cuyahoga river, and bonds for $1,500,000 are planned for this project.

Plans at present also call for $500,000 for opening, extending and widening streets; $500,000 for storm sewers; $1,000,000 for sewage disposal works; and $1,000,000 for street improvements.

The river improvement awaits acquisition of land and final approval of plans by the War Department. The money is a part of the $31,500,000 approved at last November's elections.

Mexico Starts Work on U. S.-Tampico Road

BROWNSVILLE, Tex.—(U.P.)—Work has started on the construction of a 300-mile sea coast automobile highway from the Mexican sea port of Tampico to the United States border here.

Construction is being supervised by General Juan Andres Almazan, Mexican secretary of communications. It will be a dirt road with a topping of shell and asphalt and is expected to be complete in about 300 days a year.

Most of the route will be within five miles of the coast.

Prison Hash Makers Communist Repentant

SAN FRANCISCO.—(A.P.)—Announcing the newest recipe for dissolving the color in deep-dyed Communists, James Lacey, sent to jail for inciting a disturbance, set up such a conversational din in court that he was sent back to his cell. A week later Police Judge Steiger had him brought before him again and asked him if he was repentant.

"I'll do anything to get away from that hash," Lacey said meekly. He was given a lecture on citizenship and released.

Chicago Offers Fine Unused Smokestack

CHICAGO.—(U.P.)—Chicago has a fine unused smokestack for sale to anyone who will take it on a cash and carry basis.

The smokestack was built in 1914 for a municipal incinerator plant which was never put into operation.

Now, the city wishes to cut through a street and the smokestack stands in the center of the proposed route.

Anyone wanting the chimney bad enough to take away, can have it cheap, the city has agreed.

Hitch-Hiking Depends Upon Dress and Manners

COOKSVILLE, Ill.—(U.P.)—Success in hitch hiking is largely dependent upon one's dress and manners, according to A. R. Eaton of Walsh, Okla., who visited here recently after having concluded 3,000 miles of "free" touring through the United States and Canada.

Always go well dressed and clean, and not only act like a gentleman but be a gentleman, is the rule this hiker follows. It works with success, he said, declaring he seldom has to walk more than a mile before he is given a ride. He says he always offers to pay a portion of the gasoline bill, but finds most drivers do not expect it.

Jobless Shun Paint Job to Catch Stray Puppies

BRIDGEBORO, One.—(U.P.)—Bridgeboro unemployed prefer pursuing pups to pushing paintbrushes.

When the municipal building needed repainting, the city council offered the job to the unemployed at 40 cents an hour.

Stray dogs carry a bounty of 50 cents.

Most of the unemployed left the painting job to their less agile brethren, and joined the crusade against stray dogs.

Duchess Waits on Trade in Tiny Fish Shop

MANSFIELD, Eng.—(U.P.)—Scores of persons, who visited the fish shop of J. W. Burton, during a 20 minute period here recently, were served by a titled lady.

When the Duchess of Portland alighted from her limousine to inquire about the health of Mrs. Burton, she remained inside and insisted on helping fill the customers' orders. The news of her visit spread quickly and the receipts of the small shop set a new record.

Burton formerly worked on the Duchess' estate; colliery and lost an arm in an accident. His wife also suffered a serious illness and was sent to London for treatment at the expense of the Duchess.

Accused Slayer Sees Death Weapon

That the body of a woman found near Bowling Green, Va., was not the corpse of Mrs. Phoebe Slader, with whose murder he is charged, may be the defense of William Frazer of Rahway, N. J., at his forthcoming trial. The self-confessed killer, who may compel the state to prove its corpse delict is pictured above, at left as he was confronted with the rifle with which he is alleged to have slain Mrs. Slader. Shown holding the weapon is Alvin David, Union County, N. J., prosecutor.

Thieves Chloroform Blind Man and His Dog

TOLEDO, O.—(U.P.)—A penny and a few stamps rewarded robbers who held up blind Max Rader and chloroformed him and his dog, Duke.

Max gets around well for his 72 years, but while the aged man and his dog were returning home, two bandits pressed chloroform bags against their noses and left them unconscious.

Max awoke first and revived Duke with water he always carries for him and the two staggered into the Lincoln hotel.

Wrong Season For Oats, But Right One For Booze

BUFFALO, N. Y.—(U.P.)—Oats don't grow at summer camps at this time of year.

Customs men remembered this and investigated a truckload of oats on the ferry from Grand Island.

An inventory revealed 47 bags of oats, 37 quarts of Canadian whisky, and 71 cases of ale.

During 1930 the Chicago elevated railroad carried about 182,800,000 passengers.

A state of theoretical warfare existed between the "Blue" fleet defending the Panama Canal and the "Black" attackers when this striking picture, showing the gigantic navy dirigible Los Angeles at its mooring ship, the Paetok, was taken in Panama Harbor. The "battle" is to be that of an inferior fleet with a superior force of surface craft, represented by the U. S. Pacific Fleet, which will attempt to "capture" the canal and land an armed force. After a day of radio silence, in which the friendly enemies took their positions, the dirigible scouted the edges of Panama Bay and moved off to seaward in an effort to locate the "Black" ships.

A SCARF for spring is made of black and white wool crepe in an effective design.

Not only are Foodstuffs offered by the Darwin Store noted for their goodness and wholesomeness, but for the extremely low prices as well. This is noted in scanning the list below, only a few scores of items presented for this week end.

Paris Police Open War on All Street Noises

PARIS.—(U.P.)—The gum shoe squad of the Paris police have started a crusade against noise, issuing 39 decrees. Among the decrees are:

The suppression of the screeching of car brakes.

Strident horns to be banned.

Motors are not to be tested within 130 yards of any dwelling.

Locomotive whistles, through the city, are to be blown less frequently.

Concierges and tenants are forbidden to make a noise with ash bins and milk cans.

Wireless loud speakers are banned in public, and no music in the street after 11 p. m.

Factory whistles and hooters to be banned.

These measures come as an answer to increasing agitation for the reduction of Paris street noises.

Inbreeding Helps Corn; Hybrids Increase Yield

MORGANTOWN, W. Va.—(P)—Inbreeding, popularly supposed to be a peril to man, is a boon to corn.

By inbreeding, says Prof. R. J. Garber of the University of West Virginia in a report to the American Association for the Advancement of Science, larger yields of corn are now produced.

"The corn breeding program," he says, "has been carried forward to the point where results of economic importance are beginning to be realized. There was perhaps 30,000 acres of hybrid corn grown in the United States last year.

This hybrid yields about 10 per cent more corn, giving a "potential" annual value to the inbreeding of about 130,000,000 added bushels, or five per cent of the present crop.

In Weird New Jersey Murder Drama

Here are the principal figures in New Jersey's "death ride" murder case. While authorities sought to piece together the facts of the killing of Mrs. Phoebe Stader (right center) of Rahway, N. J., her former lover, William M. Frazer (right), steadfastly refused to confess the murder. Frazer, a retired restaurant operator, was arrested in Raleigh, N. C., at almost the same time that Philip Stader (left center), husband of the slain woman, identified her body which was found hidden in a heavy undergrowth near Bowling Green, Va. Frazer was alleged to have admitted the crime to his own wife, Mrs. Hilda Frazer (left), before taking flight southward. And pictured below, in the center, is the automobile which Frazer was believed to have driven for 350 miles in his escape from Rahway with the body of the dead woman propped in the seat behind him.

Striking Closeups of Slayer of Husband in 'Bridge Murder'

Mrs. Myrtle Bennett is shown in these striking closeups on the witness stand in Kansas City court where she is on trial on a charge of having murdered her husband as the climax of a quarrel over a game of bridge. Neighbors with whom the Bennetts were playing said the husband, John G. Bennett, upbraided his wife and struck her when the couple lost a rubber. The fatal shooting followed.

Indianans Search For Pot of Gold

FORT WAYNE, Ind.—(U.P.)—Search for a pot of gold containing $3,000,000, said to have been buried by an Indian chief over 100 years ago, has aroused the interest of hundreds of people here.

The gold—said to have been the payment for the land—was hidden on the farm of John Irving, who lives near here, a clairvoyant "revealed" and searching parties have gone over the entire farm foot by foot. The men have been digging at one "suspected" place for a week and intend to continue until the money is found, they said.

Strawberry Acreage Cut Better Prices in Sight

LEXINGTON, Ky.—(P)—Prospects are good for better prices for strawberries in 1931, says the annual strawberry report of the College of Agriculture of the University of Kentucky.

An average acreage reduction of 11 per cent in 1931 is indicated, with conditions of strawberry fields poor. In Arkansas, Tennessee and Virginia the reduction is expected to be 30 per cent, and in Missouri, Kansas, Illinois, Oklahoma, Kentucky, Delaware, Maryland, and New Jersey 10 per cent.

Iowa U. Critic

Verne Marshall, managing editor of the Cedar Rapids (Iowa) Gazette, is an important witness in the state legislature's investigation of financial affairs at Iowa University. The newspaperman made a long investigation of the university's handling of state funds, especially its "slush fund athletic scandal" in 1929, and President Walter A. Jessup's administration came in for severe criticism in his charges.

Forest Land Burned Over

MARION, N. C.—(U.P.)—Approximately 10,000 acres of forest land were burned over during recent forest fires, believed started in McDowell county by persons wanting employment as fire-fighters, or mountaineers who desired to obtain a new growth of rhododendron by burning it over.

Poisons Self in Morgue

KINSTON, N. C.—(U.P.)—J. B. McLeod attempted to end his life by taking poison in a funeral parlor. He is expected to recover.

Eight Born in Six Years

BENTON, Ill.—(U.P.)—Eight children in six years is the contribution of Mr. and Mrs. William Empeke of Marion toward increasing the population. There are three pairs of twins. Empeke is a coal miner.

License Demand Increases

WATERBURY, Conn.—(U.P.)—Maybe this indicates a trend of some kind. Town Clerk Dora Egan announces hunting and fishing licenses last month increased 100 per cent over the figure for January 1930.

Police Learn Car Driving

TORONTO, Ont.—(U.P.)—All Toronto policemen who do not know how to drive a car soon will be taught by members of the motorized division of the police department, it has been announced.

Light Tells of Bites

KIOWA, Okla.—(U.P.)—Night fishing has been simplified by Cyrus V. See who has invented a device consisting of a small flashlight battery attached to the butt of a fishing pole with wires connecting it with a flashlight bulb on the other end. The bulb lights when a fish is caught on the hook.

Country Children Stand High in Health Survey

WASHINGTON.—(P)—The advantage of the pre-school city child over rural children in disease prevention service is not nearly so great as was anticipated, the national conference on child health and protection has found.

Whereas half the city children under school age have had health examinations, only a little more than a third of the country children have had this service.

But the rural child is found astonishingly close to the city child in the matter of immunizations, and stands shoulder to shoulder with the city child in visits to the dentist. Only seven per cent of country children, however, have been vaccinated.

June Weddings Fall Off

NEW YORK.—(U.P.)—Only 10 per cent of all the weddings of the year occur in June in New York City. In several states, September, October and November have succeeded June in popularity. The change in the popularity of the month has a marked effect on the jewelry trade since wedding rings and silverware are now in continuous demand.

Bill Advocates Billboard Tax For School Fund

SANTE FE, N. M.—(U.P.)—Highway bill boards that give you information about what to buy, would have another educational value, under provisions of a bill introduced into the New Mexico House of Representatives.

The bill provides that all highway billboards would be licensed at an annual rate of five cents a square foot, with no license fee less than $10, and the proceeds would go into a fund to buy textbooks for public school children.

Horses' Rights Upheld at Old Hitching Racks

PALMYRA, Mo.—(P)—One day out of the week, a hallowed institution of another age receives due reverence here. The order has gone out that henceforth motorists must not park on Mondays in front of Palmyra's hitching racks.

The explanation is that these vestiges of the equine era are still in demand when community sales are held about the court house square. Recently a complaint was filed by farmers who continue to haul their produce to market by literal instead of figurative horsepower.

Attitude of Pessimism

SCHENECTADY, N. Y.—(U.P.)—The prevailing attitude in the United States toward present-day China is one of pessimism, according to Kenneth Scott Latourette, professor of missions and oriental history at Yale. He believes China will require a century, perhaps two or three centuries to adapt itself to western civilization.

Sentenced to Church

RENSSELAER, N. Y.—(U.P.)—Regular church attendance for six months was the sentence meted out to three youths arrested with girl companions in what they said was their clubhouse. In addition, City Court Judge Walter H. Keenholds gave them suspended jail sentences of six months each.

Pioneer Radio Scientist Wins Honor After Death

MURRAY, Ky.—(P)—A memorial service to Nathan B. Stubblefield, recognized by some authorities as the inventor of the radio, is to be held March 27 at Murray State Teachers college.

Stubblefield, who died in poverty near here in 1928, is honored by a monument on the Murray campus.

The inventor made his first public demonstration in 1902, after ten years' experimentation, when he broadcast the human voice from the steamer Bartholdi on the Potomac river to listeners ashore.

A stock company to capitalize upon the invention was not a success and Stubblefield retired to a lonely cottage in the hills near here.

A shortage of doctors is seen in Mississippi, following the death during 1930 of 1,300th of the medical men in the state.

Birds Stop Clock

HARTFORD, Conn.—(U.P.)—Clock experts were puzzled when the new clock in the Old State House here, which had kept time for a year with a variation of less than 10 seconds a month, persisted in stopping at night. Investigation revealed startlingly roosted on the hands stopped the movement.

Diamond Dies Make Wire

NEW YORK.—(U.P.)—A large proportion of the fine wire in common use is made by drawing the metal through holes bored in diamonds. A single firm here keeps over 2,000 diamond dies on hand. The smallest is so minute that the aperture is not visible to the naked eye, even when held against the light.

Voted Twice For Lincoln

BOSTON.—(U.P.)—Henry N. Blake, 93, boasts of having voted twice for Abraham Lincoln for President of the United States, once in 1860 and again in 1864.

Son Reweds Parents

MERIDEN, Conn.—(U.P.)—On the 50th anniversary of their marriage in East Prussia, Mr. and Mrs. Adam Peichocki were rewed by their son, the Rev. Paul Peichocki of Union City, N. J.

He Obeyed Officer

SOUTHINGTON, Conn.—(U.P.)—"Get out of town and stay out," Policeman Leslie Brooks told Francis Conney when he found him loitering. Conney jumped into a nearby automobile and obeyed. It was the officer's car. Later it was discovered wrecked.

He Held Eight Aces

WETHERSFIELD, Conn.—(U.P.)—Henry Cowan of New York was so amazed he dropped his cards when, in a friendly little pinocle game at the home of his mother here, he was dealt eight aces from the first 12 cards off the pack.

Ask for the famous Quappaw Brands, sacked in cotton bags. We make any analysis or can furnish you materials for home mixing.

As a straight nitrogen, use Calcium Nitrate. It is a preferred nitrogen for heavy soils, contains no sodium and does not cause the soils to bake and puddle and become hard to work. On the contrary, calcium (lime) tends to improve the condition of the soil.

"College Convicts" Cut Capers

New Orleans' best-looking "jail birds" are Virginia Catlin, left, and Sara Forsythe, who appeared on Newcomb College campus wearing stripes and carrying a ball and chain in protest against a ruling that they should remain within the college grounds for two weeks without dates because they remained out too late one night during the Mardi Gras celebration. "It was just like solitary confinement," Miss Catlin said, "so we decided to wear stripes and carry a ball and chain as convicts do."

SUICIDE? MURDER? MIRACLE?

PARALYZED from that horrible accident! Never to walk again—I still burned with love for Olga—my sweet, young wife. And yet I was unable to appease that glow of hope in her eyes—hope that blazed with desire—the day she met Del Raignon—unsuspicious matinee idol.

Helpless, I watched him play on her loving, innocent nature—biding his time till Olga no longer could resist him. How I suffered—prayed for her—ragged with jealousy—and dropped to the dregs of despair.

That night—my revolver. "Good-bye, angel-heart," I whispered—and then! Out on the lawn—I saw Raignon take her—my wife—in his arms. "I can't let her live in that disgrace," I cried. Slowly I raised my revolver—carefully I took aim—and . . .

What did John do? In that awful climax, did he kill Olga to save her from disgrace with Raignon? Or did he murder that end—as not which would blacken him forever in the eyes of his wife—of society—of God?

What almighty miracle could have come to solve this pitiful tangle of helpless human destinies? You must read for yourself BECAUSE I LOVED MY WIFE—the true, heart-rending story of a man who wheeled his way through hell in an invalid's chair—and what he finally found at the very brink of oblivion.

Read BECAUSE I LOVED MY WIFE and nearly a score of other astounding real-life stories—all in April 1931 TRUE STORY MAGAZINE. Get your copy—read it today!
